

Dear Amicalists,

When each of us entered into our careers in our beloved hospitality industry, we were told that our industry would always flourish, people would always travel and we would always be sure to find work anywhere in the world.

This year, we learnt something different. It only feels like moments ago when we chanted 'We are the World' in Warsaw, side by side holding hands. Only a few months later, most of the hotels we work for are shut, borders are closed and tourism is restricted - and some of our futures have become unpredictable.

In such uncertain times, you must remember that your family and friends will be there for you. Just as you shall be there for your beloved ones.

The AICR will always be here for you - regardless of what's happening in the world. In most of our sections, we have to refrain from meeting personally. The International Committee and the Section Presidents are actively seeking opportunities to stay in touch with you. In due course we will present you with initiatives, which will bring value to our members, partners and sponsors.

We will show you that you are not alone, and that we are an Amicale - in good times and bad times.

We stand together.

Amicalement,

Arian Roehrlé
International President AICR
